Foreward

For over two years we at Salem High have experienced life in a world at war. The far reaching effects of this titanic struggle have been felt by all of us. Thus, ever conscious of our increasing debt to you, our boys in training camps or on one of our distant fighting fronts, we appropriately designate as our theme . . . . .

Letters to the Boys Over There

Dedication

To Bill, who typifies every student, alumnus, and faculty member who has left school or occupation to aid in the war effort, either on the home front or on one of our nation's scattered battle lines, we dedicate this 1944 Clarion.

Memoriam

A CHAPTER IS CLOSED

In recording the death of James C. Nelson, Principal Emeritus and Registrar of Salem High School, the 1944 Clarion Annual pays tribute to the memory of a true scholar, a great teacher, and a loyal friend. His career from 1914 to 1944, spanned by World War I and World War II, made his work as an educator a singularly democratic service to "Education, the Defense of the State."

Dear Bill,
Without the unceasing spirit and enthusiasm shown by our faculty, our school life would be very dull, indeed.
In addition to the increased duties caused by a smaller staff, the administrative personnel have backed you by buying bonds, doing U. S. work and giving blood. Members of our faculty have joined the armed forces - the Army,
the Navy, and the A. C.
Others have sons, brothers, and other relatives in the service.

The war has brought about a noticeable change in all our lives and,
though the sacrifices made now are small, greater ones will be made in the future by all of us.

ADMINISTRATION

As Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Frank Bennett has established an enviable record, not only as a school administrator but as a civic leader. He is now serving his fifth year in this capacity. Like other executives, he has had to cope with many difficult problems in the school year of 1943-44, not the least of these being to find replacements for teachers and to obtain equipment for the maintenance of the Salem Public Schools.

Mr. Frank B. Bennett

School Board

The Salem School Board, ever awake to our changing needs, is this year giving serious consideration to a post-war improvement program. This new responsibility, in addition to the task of maintaining our schools in these difficult times, has made the year a busy one for the Board.

Elected by the voters of the Salem school district to serve on the school board are Mr. Donald Young, chairman; Mr. Connell Ward, clerk-business manager; Mrs. David Wright; Dr. Leon Barrick; Mr. Roy Harland; and Mr. Ralph Campbell.

For fifteen years Principal Fred D. Wolf conducted the administrative duties of Salem High School. It was necessary for him to carry an even heavier load this year because no assistant principal was selected to replace Mr. Edmund Carlton who entered the Navy a year ago. Also, he was without the services of Mr. James C. Nelson during the second semester. Through his efforts the scope of the curriculum and extra-curricular activities was broadened to meet the exacting demands of the war. Principal Wolf submitted his resignation to the School Board in February, and Mr. Walter Snyder, director of curriculum in Salem, took over the duties of principal for the remainder of the year.

Mr. Fred D. Wolf

Office Staff

War conditions and extended activities have combined to increase the work of the office staff. During the year they have been on the job from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. six days a week. In addition to the usual clerical work, which includes many tasks besides the arranging of schedules, checking attendance and tardiness, they have had to prepare records for former Salem High students entering the armed forces. Mr. James Nelson, Registrar and Principal Emeritus, was a member of the efficient office staff until his death in January, 1944. Other members are Mrs. Bertha Finch and Miss Ramona Lenaburg.

Shown here behind her desk in her private office is Miss Mabel P. Robertson, dean of girls. It is here that she carries on her many duties which include solving girls' problems, arranging the school's social calendar, and fitting the girls into the war effort. She also teaches three periods of American problems and acts as adviser for Girls' League. During the past year Miss Robertson also found time to work with Salem patriotic organizations and to read many books.

Mr. Frank E. Neer

In Mr. Frank E. Neer Salem High School has a dean of boys whose interests are varied. During the morning hours he may be found in room 109 teaching American history. In the afternoon he is either in his private office or the main office performing some of his many tasks. One of Mr. Neer's special hobbies is that of helping students obtain scholarships. This he has enjoyed for about three years, and at present a number of former Salem High students are attending various colleges on scholarships obtained under his guidance. The dean is also an enthusiastic gardener and devotes much of this leisure time to the cultivation of his gardens on North Church street.

The ASB officers of 1943-44 did much to stimulate the students' interest in the war effort. With this thought uppermost in their minds they pledged $15,000 to buy a trainer plane. President Travis Cross and his fellow officers deserve a considerable amount of the credit that Salem high received for oversubscribing their quota. Although the war effort was the chief interest, under the leadership of Nancy Montgomery the students of Salem high had a full social calendar and succeeded in making the year a memorable one for the boys who were joining our armed forces. Martha Weller successfully filled the position of secretary and Forensic Manager Bob Zeller did an excellent job of handling the ticket sales during the year. Dave Getzendaner, our sergeant at arms kept order in assemblies and during the council meetings. Members of the ASB council were as follows: Duke Mankertz, Wilford Beard and Richard Page representing the senior class; Carolyn Carson, Ruby Burnham, and Bob Robins giving their views for the junior class; and Allan Bellinger and William Wilson for the sophomores.

Under the leadership of President Don Burlingham, a newcomer from Columbia Prep, the class of '44 brought their high school career to a close. Mary Bollinger, vice president, planned many activities to make the year an outstanding one. Marilyn Hjort, secretary, kept a complete and accurate account of the minutes and Mary Parker very capably filled the office of treasurer. Howard Elwood kept peace and order during council meetings. Representatives to the ASB council were Duke Mankertz, Wilford Beard and Richard Page. Following the example set by the preceding year, the senior class decided to wear caps and gowns as a wartime economy measure. With the enlistment of Mrs. Sylvia E. Kraps, senior class adviser, in the WAC, the senior class presented her with a gift. "Wintertime" was the theme of the semi-formal held during the Christmas season. Early in the second semester they sponsored the movie "Wake Island." The senior class banquet in May concluded a well rounded social program. Class council members were Evelyn Hilfiker, Jean Smith, Bea Smith, Dave Scott, Bettijane McDonald, Dorothy Boucher, Corrine Wade, James Crone, Eddie Jackman, Rosabelle Ross, Frank Blank, Kay Huntington, Willis Bach, and Leroy Blake. Advisers were Miss Carmelita Barquist and Mr. George Birrell.

The class of '45 began a successful year with the presentation of the Junior Class Vaudeville in November. They sponsored a dance early in the spring and brought the year to a close with the annual Junior-Senior Prom which was held June 2. Officers for the junior class were Jack Slater, president; Addyse Lane, vice president; Jean Fidler, secretary; Beverly Wadsworth, treasurer; James Gwaltney, sergeant at arms; Bob Strebiger, forensic manager; June Young, song leader, and Newell Williams, yell leader. Ruby Burnham, Carolyn Carson, and Robert Robins were chosen as representative to the ASB council. Serving on the council were Douglas Berwick, Nelda Carter, Connie Cocking, Carroll Crawford, Shirley Dagenhardt, Donald Eastridge, Beverly Epley, Bernard Hansen, Lillian Hoffman, Edna Judd, Betty Kayser, Fred Lea, Edward McCall, Lee Nash, Marie Phillips, James Shawver, and Patricia Wolcott.

Outstanding among the sophomores is President Pete Hoar, who led the class through a successful year. Other capable officers were Vice President Harriet Huston, who planned a well rounded social calendar; Secretary Joan Lochead, who kept an accurate account of minutes; and Treasurer Beverly Kenny. Jim Loder filled the office of forensic manager. Song leaders were Barbara and Gloria McClintock and yell leader was Donald Lucas. William Wilson and Allan Bellinger represented the class in the ASB Council.

Officers

Council

The class of '46 began an active year with a sophomore class dinner, February 11. They sponsored a noon dance, a movie on April 27 and an ASB dance on May 5. Council members are as follows: Dorothy Bergsvik, Charles Uppegraff, Charlotte Williams, Jim Loder, Peggy Fargher, Dudley Bullock, Betty Albers, Goldie Hagel, Bob Deacon, Miriam Shellenberger, Joan Randall, Carolyn Davis, Tom Faught, Dick Close, Harvey Loveall, Jack Fitzmaurice, Virgie Cook, Jan Trarson, Allan Mellinger and Buster Wilson.

The Girls' League, an organization made up of all the girls in Salem High School does much to foster a friendlier relationship among the girls. Officers for 1943-44 were Evangeline McKinlay, president; Roberta Rogers, vice president; Joan Remington, secretary; Betty Staab, treasurer; Trudie Meier, song leader; Evelyn Meyer, sergeant at arms. Miss Mabel Robertson, dean of girls, is the adviser. Every year each incoming sophomore is assigned a "big sister" who helps her get acquainted with Salem High. Events of the year included the traditional print week in the spring, and the interclass rivalry programs. The seniors won with their presentation of "Stage Door Canteen." Sophomores were second with "The Doll Shop" and juniors third with "Hillbilly Hill."

Dear Bill,
During the two and a half years of American participation in the war, a new seriousness has been reflected in every sophomore, junior, and senior at Salem High School.
Our classes have been considerably smaller this year because many students have taken jobs or joined the armed forces. The boys especially know that they cannot make their own decisions for the immediate future, for they realize they must first help secure freedom for their country. Girls, too, face many new problems connected with home front participation in the war. Altogether, they make up the war-conscious youth of today who will be America's citizens of tomorrow.

In Memoriam

GORDON GEDDES

Class of '46

Dear Bill,
Our activities this year were limited because of the war, but those we did have were enjoyed by all of us.
Our dances, pay assemblies, the Civics Club Carnival, and all the other traditional affairs were most successful.
Our newspaper kept up our morale and brought news
of many of you servicemen.
The band and orchestra helped boost our school spirit, too.
From a glance at our year's calendar you can see we still do many of the same things you did when you were here at Salem High.

Gladly
John L. Bork

THE CLARION ANNUAL EDITORIAL STAFF has despite war time restriction, given Salem High School students an annual which will be cherished as an accurate record of school activities during the school year of 1943-44. The annual staff was composed of Patsy Schneider, editor; Beverly Davies, assistant editor; Jane Walsh, organizations; Carolyn Carson, activities; Mary Jo Rund, administration; Duke Mankertz, boys' sports; Bob Eusick, senior class; Franklin Combs, junior class; Joe Brazie, sophomore class; Elmond Decker, snapshots; Mary Kowitz, Margaret Simpson, Mariann Croisan, Bill Merriam, Stanley Hawk, Betty Lou Edwards, Carolyn Davis, Meta Wooldridge, Jewell Gueffroy, Harriet Huston, Dorothy Cooney, Beverly Epley, Betty Staab, Mary Reimann, Patsy Pearson, Stella Teeson, Bonnie Baillie, Georgia Roberts, Phyllis Wilson, Helen Paulson, Dick Page, Pat Brown, Buster Wilson, and David Scott. Miss Jenette Roberts was the adviser for the group.

THE CLARION ANNUAL MANAGING STAFF, under the direction of the ambitious manager, Irving Steinbock, together with his able assistants have, by hard work and business ability successfully taken care of the financial side of this year's annual. Those on the staff included Eddie Jackman, assistant manager; Duke Mankertz, Ruth Anderson, June Young, and Bob Macy, solicitors. Mr. Preston Doughton acted as the adviser.

THE CLARION EDITORIAL STAFF has, under the leadership of Ruth Anderson, succeeded in publishing a Clarion that has maintained the standard set by former editors. Those on the main staff were Chris Kowitz, sports editor; DeLoris Lawrence, girls' sports editor; Dona Lutz, feature editor; Elmond Decker, Dave Scott, and Buster Wilson, photographers; and reporters, Jeanne Blensley, Robert Robins, Marilyn Archibald, Addyse Lane, Betty Zo Allen, Jean Fidler, Pat Van de Coevering, Joyce VanDyke, Aileen Hanner, Pat Brown, Edith Fairham, Leo Reed, Carolyn Carson, Bob Weber, Barbara Keyes, Maurice Deckard, Cherie Rose Raines, Elaine Case, June Young, Bob Macy, and Caroline Helton. The reporters on the cub staff were Adah Mae Teel, Margaret Simpson, Bill Merriam, Joe Brazie, and Marvel DeGuire. The adviser was Mrs. Leah Hogue.

THE CLARION MANAGING STAFF has played a large part in this year's successful publishing of the Clarion. The alert and active manager Ellis Teel, together with his competent staff have worked faithfully and untiringly in handling the new subscription rate in addition to obtaining the necessary advertisements. When Ellis left for Army service in April, Marilyn Archibald took over his duties. The staff consists of Bob Macy, Betty Zo Allen, Carolyn Carson, Pat Van de Coevering, Ruth Anderson, Arlene Fromm, Bill Barlow, Benny Lambert, Bob Weber, and Robert Robins. Mr. Preston Doughton was their adviser.

At the speech tournaments held at McMinnville, Eugene, and Willamette University students from Salem High School won many awards. Those entering in oratory were Maurice Deckard and Dorothy Cooney; after-dinner speaking, Thomas Brand and George Swift; humorous interpretation, Addyse Lane, Maurice Deckard, and Helen Boyce; serious interpretation, George Swift; poetry, Ruth Bain; and radio, Addyse Lane and Ruth Bain. George Swift and Don Yocom participated in the panel discussion in which the question was: "Are the high schools of Oregon adequately meeting the needs of the students?" The coach for the speech group was Miss Ella Rose Mason, a Willamette University student.

Debate

Salem High School sent delegates to the annual debate tournaments held during the 1943-44 school year. Prizes were won at the district and state tournaments held in McMinnville, Eugene, and Willamette University. The question was: "Resolved that the United States should join in reconstituting the League of Nations." The debaters were seniors, Ruth Bain, Helen Boyce, George Swift, and Thomas Brand; the juniors, Dorothy Cooney, Don Yocom, and Maurice Deckard. Miss Ella Rose Mason of Willamette served as coach for the group.

Salem High School's eighty piece band was always present at football and basketball games, pep assemblies, and parades. Highlighting the school year were concerts on December 28 and May 9. The organization purchased gold citation cord for the uniforms from money earned from their city-wide paper drive. Following the system started last year, the band was divided into two groups. For the "A" band the president was Robert Macy; vice president, LaVern Hiebert; point secretary, Gene Horn; recording secretary, Frank Bales; librarians, Roy Houck, Elcena McCune, and Tad Shinkle; reporter, Robert Robins. Officers for the "B" band were Glen Widdows, president; Paul Gilmer, vice president; Alva Johnson, point secretary; Nelda Carter, recording secretary; June Davis, librarian; Doris Martin, scrapbook editor. Drum major was Richard Taw and Pat O'Connor, Lorita Garrett, Colleen Kroner, and June Stawell were majorettes. Band Director Vernon Wiscarson deserves much credit for the success of the band this year.

Orchestra

Fully half of the forty-five members of the Salem High School orchestra were new to the organization this year. Under the direction of Mr. Vernon Wiscarson, the group became a commendable musical unit and played at various occasions. They furnished music at the Snikpoh play, appeared in concert with the band, and took part in Music Week. As is traditional at Salem High the orchestra's outstanding contribution was at baccalaureate and commencement. Individual members have added to the enjoyment of civic organizations in Salem. Officers for the past year were Franklin Combs, president; Addyse Lane, vice president; Betty Zo Allen, secretary; and Richard Barber, librarian.

Snikpoh Dramatic Society, directed by Miss Margaret Burroughs, presented an entirely new type of play entitled, "The Romantic Age," a comedy in three acts by A. A. Milne. This play was one of the outstanding events of the school year and an audience acclaimed it a success. The plot involves Melisande Knowle, played by Barbara Sundet, a very romantic girl who is looking for a lover in the form of a knight. Jerry Leedy played Gervase Mallory who most nearly met her expectations. Other actors and actresses who added much color to the play were Marlyn Hjort as Jane Bagot, the visiting relative; Farrell Rust as the comical, Bobby Coote, young admirer of both Jane and Melisande; Mariann Croisan, as the hypochondriactic, Mrs. Knowle; Tom Brand as the patient husband, Mr. Knowle; Jean Swift as Alice, the maid. Danny McCall played Ern, the village yokel; and David Simpson was Gentleman Susan. Miss Lelia Johnson was the faculty manager of the play.

Snikpoh Play

Civics Club Carnival

Exotic dancers, beautiful girls, waving palm trees, and an oriental temple, gave spirit to "Distant Horizons", the theme of the annual Civics club carnival. Queen Marlyn Hjort from Snikpoh, was the supreme ruler for the evening and she was crowned by Bill Reinhart, president of Civics club. Chosen as crown princesses were Joy Randall, Pep club, and Trudie Meier, Que Dice. Other princesses were Barbara Brundidge, Commercial club; Charlotte Mathis, Crescendo; Juanita Culbertson, Art club; Arlene Frogley, Future Craftsmen; Evelyn Meithof, Future Farmers; Gloria Evensen, Home Economics; Catherine Thompson, Spanish; Geraldine Nelson, Latin; Kathleen Hug, Girls' Letter; Betty Jean Hayes, Philhistorian; Pat Zeller, Science; Jean Smith, Tri-Y; and Joyce Van Dyke, Radio club. Art club received first place for the skit on China. Second place went to Pep club, who portrayed the South Sea Islands; third place was awarded to Que Dice for an interpretation of Russia. Club Philhistorian received honorable mention for their skit on the home front. Elmond Decker was general chairman of the production and Mrs. Gertrude Smith and Mrs. Pauline Cohen were the advisers.

Salem High in the Spring

Students Buy Bonds and Stamps

Dear Bill,
The organizations play an important role in our school life, for it is the clubs that sponsor many of our social activities. For over a year our clubs were compelled to have fewer meetings because we had no activity period as a result of added courses of study and a shorter school year. During the last semester, though, an activity period again made possible frequent club meetings.

Many patriotic activities were listed on the club calendar this year. Under the sponsorship of the Junior Red Cross Salem High students purchased over sixteen thousand dollars worth of war stamps and bonds. Hi-Y and Tri-Y together collected $760 for the United War Chest. The clubs sponsored many dances and movies this year, too.

ORGANIZATIONS

One of the most coveted honors at Salem High is election to the Sigma Lambda Chapter of National Honor Society. Membership is based upon scholarship, service, leadership, and character. During the year two formal inductions for new members were held, and a few days before Christmas the annual homecoming banquet was held. Bill Reinhart, who is now in the U. S. Navy, was the president during the first semester and Evangeline McKinley, vice president. Joy Randall was secretary and Duke Mankertz served as treasurer. The second semester officers were Kay Huntington, president; Rosemary Gaiser, vice president; Jeanne Demytt, secretary; and David Scott, treasurer. Chairman of the advisory committee was Miss Beryl Holt, and other members included Miss Lilian Davis, Miss Vivian Chandler, Miss Carmelita Barquist, and Mr. Frank Neer.

National Honor Society

Civics Club

Civics club, as the name implies, studies problems of our city and government. At one of the earlier meetings, a mock trial on juvenile delinquency was produced. Considerable time during club meetings was devoted to planning the annual Civics Club Carnival. Officers were president Bill Reinhart; vice president, Joan Remington; secretary-treasurer, Norma Jean Newgent; and sergeant at arms, Bruce Hamilton. Mrs. Gertrude Smith was the adviser.

This year Crescendo club sponsored the Crescendo Concert Series for the seventh time. On the program this year were Eleanor King, dancer; George Chachavadze, pianist; The Britt Trio, string ensemble; and Janet Bush, mezzo-soprano. Members of the club took part in civic activities, including the presentation of programs at the U. S. O. and the Willamette chapel. A new feature this year was the weekly radio programs presented by the members over KSLM. Officers for the year were Wilford Beard, president; Donna Unruh, vice president; Marilyn Wyatt, secretary; Betty Jean Merten, treasurer; Jean Fidler, historian; Dean Allport, sergeant at arms; Robert Robins, concert manager; Rosemary Gaiser, membership chairman, and Edith Fairham, program chairman. Miss Lena Belle Tartar was the adviser.

Crescendo Club

Snikpoh

Snikpoh dramatic society, the oldest club in Salem high, has had an active year. The first event on their calendar was the initiation for new members. In January they presented their annual play. This year's production, A. A. Milne's "The Romantic Age," was directed by Miss Margaret Burroughs. The group received much praise for staging such an unusual and difficult play. At the Civics club carnival they entered a skit and their princess, Marilyn Hjort, became Queen Marilyn I. Officers for the year were Thomas Brand, president; June Young, vice president; Betty Zo Allen, secretary; Roberta Paulus, treasurer; and David Simpson, sergeant at arms. Miss Lelia Johnson was the business manager and Miss Margaret Burroughs, the coach.

Que Dice, Salem High School's speech club, successfully completed the year under the guidance of their new adviser, Mr. George Birrell. At the first of the year their annual initiation took place in the gym. Other activities included the presentation of skits for the Civics club carnival and the Alpha Phi Alpha sorority at Willamette. The officers were Don Yocum, president; Addyse Lane, vice president; Connie Cocking, secretary; Shirley Lukins, treasurer; and Helen Boyce, sergeant at arms.

Que Dice

Science Club

The Science club members are chosen from students taking courses in science. Their main activity for the year was the management of the Civics Club Carnival concessions. They had several speakers and different scientific experiments at their club meetings. At the close of the school year a picnic was held. Officers for the year were Barbara Crawford, president; Pat Zeller, vice president; Pat Varley, secretary; and Carolyn Carson, treasurer.

Club Philhistorian is the new name adopted by the organization formerly known as the social science club. The most interesting activity of the group this year was their participation in the Civics Club Carnival in which they entered a princess, won honorable mention for their skit, "On the Home Front", and had charge of a candy concession in the gym. Their officers for the year were Jack Slater, president; Gaylord Nixon, vice president; Wanda Steinbruck, secretary; Eugene Lowe, treasurer; and Jim Gwaltney, sergeant at arms. Miss Mary Eyre was the adviser.

Club Philhistorian

Commercial Club

The Commercial club, whose members are chosen from students taking business courses, is now in its seventeenth active year. At one meeting they heard a speaker from the employment office. Social events for the year were an initiation party, a Valentine party, and a picnic. The group sponsored a concession at the Civics club carnival. The officers were as follows: Eddie Jackman, president; Ruth Andrews, vice president; LaVelle Cross, secretary; Jack Corning, treasurer; Caroline Helton, advertising manager; and Howard Beugli, sergeant at arms. Mrs. Pauline Cohen and Miss Elizabeth Hogg were the advisers.

The first event of Spanish club was the initiation of some fifteen new members. At the regular meetings the group enjoyed games, movies, songs, and reports on the customs and war activities of Pan-American countries. In May the members had a picnic. This year's officers were Bob Macy, president; Dona Lutz, vice president; Wilma Gorton, secretary; Jack Ricketts, treasurer; and Beverly McMillan, song leader. Miss Naida Carroll was the adviser.

Spanish Club

Latin Club

The Latin club, one of the oldest organizations in the school, has had an interesting year. In the fall they hold their annual initiation. At the Civics club carnival they had a booth in the gym. For the first time in several years the club enjoyed a banquet in typical Roman style. Officers for the year have been Lillian Hoffmann, consul primus; Shirley Severin, consul secundus; Mary Jo Rund and Peggy Pound, quaestors; June Swinford, Gladys Van Hess, and Mena Miller, aediles; Rebecca Howard and Paul Hale, censors; Beite Albers, praeco; Jane Carson, scriptor; and Bill Bladorn, pugnator. Miss Frances Fellows was the adviser.

The Home Economics club enjoyed a year filled with many varied activities. Early in the year new members were initiated at a party. At Christmas time the club made doll clothes, sponsored a food sale, decorated High Home, and prepared gifts for soldiers at Camp Adair. Each week cookies were made for the U. S. O.'s in Salem. An open house and spring picnic brought the year to a close. Officers were Margaret Smith, president; Jean Hoffert, vice president; Pat Farrell, secretary; Joan Tweedie, treasurer; Arden Shepard, reporter; and Wilma Dunn, librarian. Heads of other offices were Iris Wall, service chairman; Leah Smith, program chairman; Lucille Hoffert, corresponding secretary; Barbara Cady, ice cream sales; and Esther Lenaburg, assistant reporter. Faculty advisers were Mrs. Eula Creech and Mrs. Mabel Cooley.

Home Economics Club

Nurses Club

The girls in the Nurses club learned much about nursing from discussions and by the field trips to near-by state institutions. Each member of the club accompanied the public health nurse, Mrs. Evelyn Rasley, on visits to her patients. They enjoyed a picnic near the end of the year. Officers for Nurses club were as follows: Barbara Williams, president; Barbara Hoadley, vice president; Irene Dalke, recording secretary; Jo Anne Monkman, corresponding secretary; Sarah Morse, treasurer; and Janet Kirk, social chairman. Mrs. Evelyn Rasley and Mr. Frank Neer were the advisers.

Under the advisement of the new art teacher, Mrs. Ruth Sitlinger, the art department formed three new clubs. Their skit on China took first place at the Civics Club Carnival. In February they had a Valentine friendship card sale. Practically every organization in Salem high has benefited from the banners and posters that the Commercial Art club has made for the publicity of various clubs' functions. The 1944 Commercial Art farewell party concluded their year. Their officers were George Manning, president; Bob Crossler, vice president; Dorothy Saul, secretary; Emerald Pickett, treasurer; and Ollie Sacre, publicity manager. The other two clubs and their presidents were Graphic Arts club, Pat Hedges; and Interior Decorating club, Myrna Moor.

Arts Club

Stagecraft Guild

The Stagecraft Guild has made a fine contribution to the extra curricular program of the high school. The members of this organization handle the lighting effects, stage preparation, sound equipment, and projection for the auditorium. During the past year they had charge of the stage for the Snikpoh play, three plays for Willamette University, the Christmas program, Civics Club Carnival, Homecoming, Girls' League Rivalry, and others. Unlike other groups the Stagecraft Guild elects a new president each six weeks. Presidents were as follows: Robert Bennett, Alden Sundlie, Truman Runner, and Arthur Engelbart. Other officers were Joe Formick and Wilford Beard, stage managers; Leo Reed, head projectionist; and Jack Wiles, head usher. Mrs. Gertrude Shisler was the adviser.

Harrison Elliott Hi-Y again had an active year. With money earned from the sale of ice cream and soft drinks the group purchased an electric sign to use on meeting nights. With other Hi-Y clubs they helped with the war chest drive, sweetheart dance and older boys' conference. Officers for the year included Bill Reinhart, president; Bob Zeller, vice president; Bruce Hamilton, secretary; Richard Page, treasurer; Eugene Lowe, sergeant at arms. Mr Frank Neer and Mr. Harry Broadbent were the advisers.

Borlow

Harrison Elliott
Hi-Y

Arthur Cotton
Hi-Y

Like the other Hi-Y clubs Arthur Cotton had the older boys' conference, the sweetheart dance, and the war chest drive on their calendar this year. New as adviser this year was Mr. George Birrell, chemistry instructor. Bill Juza was president for the year; Newell Williams, vice president; Bob Strebiger, secretary; and Daryl Sims, treasurer.

Abel Gregg Hi-Y cooperated with the other two Hi-Y clubs in sponsoring the sweetheart dance May 19th, in playing hosts to the older boys' conference in January, and in helping collect money for the United War Chest. The club sold popcorn at basketball games as a money making activity. The club officers were Bob Skopil, president; Jim Phillips, vice president; Don Smith, secretary; Gaylord Nixon, treasurer. Mr. Herman Schwartskopf was their adviser.

Abel Gregg Hi-Y

Tri-Y

Outstanding features of the year 1943-44 for Tri-Y were a hayride, the annual Tri-Y dance held April 14, and the midwinter conference. The officers for the year were Geraldine Nelson, president; Addyse Lane, vice president; Betty Manoles, recording secretary; Jo Ann Tweedie, corresponding secretary; Janice Meyers, treasurer; June Young, program chairman; Trudie Meier, social chairman; Marilyn Archibald, publicity chairman; Mary Ann Bollinger, finance chairman; Pat Brown, service chairman; Helen Paulson, ring and pin chairman; Betty Zo Allen, camp and conference chairman; and Jackie Torgerson, song leader. Breaking a tradition, this year the club was divided into six chapters. The leaders of these chapters were Joann Monkman, Margaret Mead chapter; Cherie Raines, Elaine Fisher chapter; Jean Swift, Rhoda McCullough chapter; Jean Fidler, Ann Guthry chapter; Edith Fairham, Grace Elliott chapter; and Barbara Crawford, Abbie Graham chapter.

The Future Farmers of America had varied activities this year. These included operating a concession at the Civics club carnival, entering a sectional public speaking contest, and participating in shop contests and better farming contests. A parent and son banquet, the county F. F. A. fair, and the sectional parliamentary contest were among the events of the year, too. Officers were Leonard Perlich, president; Dean Bartholomew, vice president; Earl Gum, secretary; Edwin Poppitz, treasurer; and Delman Asher, reporter. Mr. Neal Craig was the adviser.

Future Farmers

Future Craftsmen

The Future Craftsmen wholeheartedly participated in machine shop production throughout the year. They also enjoyed movies on industries and vocations. Officers for the year were as follows: Harris Kirby, president; Armon McDowell, vice-president; Donald Van Hess, secretary and treasurer; and Donnell Herrold, sergeant at arms.

The main events of the Apprentices of Future Craftsmen was a banquet held March 2 and their Future Craftsmen initiation. Officers for the year were Joe Lowery, superintendent; Julian Gregory, foreman; Gene Smalley, timekeeper; and Dick Miller, gate keeper. Mrs. E. T. Barnett was the adviser.

Apprentices of Future Craftsmen

Radio Club

In order to obtain amateur licenses the Radio club studied code and theory at their meetings. Members were able to practice radio principles on a sending and receiving set. The officers for the year were as follows: Frank Rock, president; Bill Wane, president pro tem; Don Clark, vice president; Leo Robbins, secretary; Bill Wane, sergeant at arms for the first semester; and Dick Scandling, sergeant at arms the second semester. Mr. George Brant was the adviser and treasurer.

The Junior Red Cross is credited with contributing more to the war effort than any other organization in Salem High. Throughout the year the group sponsored the sale of war stamps and bonds. With the aid of the ASB committee the Junior Red Cross made it possible for Salem High to exceed the goal of $15,000 set for the purchase of a trainer plane. Other war activities included the filling of twenty-five ditty bags for the Senior Red Cross and the making of gift boxes for children in foreign countries. The council is composed of a representative from each home room. Officers for the year were as follows: Grace Shields, president; Betty Lou Edwards, vice president; Cherie Raines, secretary; and Charles Chittick, treasurer. Mrs. Ellen Fisher and Mrs. Claudine Elbert were the advisers.

Council

National Athletic Honor Society

Richard Taw

The National Athletic Honor society was organized with the purpose of inspiring lettermen to make better grades. Each boy who is a member of the club must have a high scholastic standing. It was decided at the first of the year that any of the five members could act in the capacity of each office of the club. The main event of the year was the National Athletic Honor society formal. It was given in December and the theme was "Snowflake Fantasy." Members include Richard Taw, Travis Cross, Bob Zeller, Bruce Hamilton, and David Getzendorfer. Mr. Gurnee Flesher is the adviser.

"One of the largest and one of the most active organizations of Salem High School" is a phrase that aptly describes the Girls' Letter Club. Early fall brought the "Sadie Hawkins Day" dance at which alumnae and new members were honored guests. Outstanding service was rewarded by the presentation of gold achievement pins to prominent seniors at the annual formal banquet held in May. With the theme centering around the return of service men, the Jym Jamboree brought the year's activities to a close. Officers included Evelyn Meyers, president; Sarah Craven, first vice president; Mary Parker, second vice president; Barbara Kent, secretary; Roberta Rogers, treasurer; Beatrice Smith and Edna Schofield, sergeants at arms and June Young, song and yell queen. Advisers were Mrs. Grace Wolgamott, Miss Margaret Shipley and Mrs. Edith Serell.

Girls' Letter Club

S Club

One of the widely known clubs in Salem High School is the boys' athletic organization, the "S" club. This group has an annual spring banquet; they sponsor the tournament dances, and they assist at athletic events. To become a member a boy must earn a red chenille letter. The officers for the year were Bruce Hamilton, president; Tom Boardman, vice president; Bob Zeller, secretary; Art Gottfried, treasurer; and Eugene Lowe, sergeant at arms. The adviser was Mr. Gurnee Flesher.

At all games Salem High's song and yell team led enthusiastic students in their support of the Vikings. Song queen Joy Randall and assistant Norma Newgent along with yell king Bob Skopil arranged novel, interesting pep assemblies and introduced several new yells to the students. Before the Salem-Astoria basketball series the yell team led the traditional serpentine through town.

Song and Yell Leaders

Pep Club

The purpose of the Pep club is to promote enthusiasm and to boost the school athletic events. The membership is limited to girls and new members are elected in the fall. This year an initiation party, a candy sale, and a serpentine were among the club's activities. Joy Randall was elected crown princess at the Civics club carnival and the club skit took second place. Song queen Joy Randall and assistant Norma Newgent were automatically president and vice president. Other officers were Helen Paulson, secretary; Dessa Lee Holmes, treasurer; and Barbara Crawford, sergeant at arms.

Dear Bill,
Sports have been affected by the war more than any other high school activity.
Some sports have been discontinued entirely while others have been limited.
Coaches and players alike have entered the armed forces.

Because of travel restrictions fewer students may journey to other towns with the athletic teams.
Different, too, are the gym classes, for now rigid calisthenics replace games of basketball and football.
We still remember when you boys won victories for Salem High on the athletic field, and we like to think that it was here you learned the principles of excellent teamwork that you are displaying on battle fields

COACHES

Although several men connected with the physical education department have entered the armed forces since the outbreak of the war, the staff has changed little in the past year. Gurnee Flesher is the capable director of athletics while Tom Drynan and Herman Schwartzkopf are full time instructors. Frank Beer, biology instructor, coaches the Jayvees and Frank Brown of Parrish Junior High coaches basketball for Salem High. Under the guidance of these coaches, Salem High has had top teams during 1943-44.

Starting the season with ten returning lettermen, Coach Tom Drynan fashioned a smooth functioning team. With a light but fast backfield, running from either a T-formation or a single wing, the Red and Black rolled up a total of 83 points to their opponents 71. The Vikings scored all but seven of these points in the second halves of their games. High spots of the season included a 7-0 win over the Albany Bulldogs which broke a fourteen game losing streak dating back to November 1941; the holding off the powerful Jefferson Democrats to a Thanksgiving Day tie; and victories over Corvallis, Oregon City, and Astoria. The season wasn't all bright for the Vikings, for they were defeated four times. Those members of the squad receiving the block S's were linesmen Don Burlingham, Jerry Langan, Bill Barlow, Noel Worley, Jack Slater, Don Bisbee, Melvin Hilficker, Howard Elwood, Don Wilson, Bob Payne, Glen Widdows, and Tom Boardman; backs, Bruce Hamilton, Travis Cross, Art Gottfried, Ray Van Dorn, Les Purcell, Bill Reinhart, Dave Getzendaner, and Everett Staats, and Manager George Gottfried. End Jerry Langan was named to the No-Name League All-Star team and nine other Vikings were given honorable mention.

Varsity Football

Jayvee Football

Under the guiding hands of Coach Herman Schwartzkopf, the Salem High Junior Varsity compiled a record of two wins, two losses, and one tie. During the season the "Baby Vikings" or Jayees ran up some 48 points to 30 for the opposition. Those receiving their Circle S's were Jim Arnett, Allan Bellinger, Bob Bennett, Don Davis, Eugene Fowler, Gordon Geddes, Bob Hamilton, Jim Jones, Benny Lambert, Bill Ready, Bob Singleton, Jim Shawver, Bob Thompson, Dale Yarnell, Steve Zurlinden, Stuart Maxwell, Jim Barlow, Andy Zahare, Nile Castor, Jim Hess, Daryl Otjen, Richard Harrison, Dean Thomas, LaVerne Fowler, and Roy Houck.

BASKETBALL

Using a squad composed of five lettermen, three Jayvees, and two transfers, Coach Frank Brown molded a Viking basketball squad which went through the season winning thirteen and losing thirteen games for a percentage of .500. In his second year as coach of the Red and Black, Brown's charges amassed a total of 780 points to 769 for their opponents. The brightest moment in the season was achieved when the Vikings tipped Astoria's Fishermen two straight early in February, 35-32 and 30-25. In an early season game the Salem team also defeated Klamath Falls, the defending state champions. The Astoria series initiated a five game winning streak which included consecutive victories over Astoria, Milwaukie, Albany, and Tillamook. Burlingham was the individual high scorer with 170 points in twenty-six games. Captain Travis Cross followed with 132 in twenty-four games, and Don Chapman was third with 101 in twenty-five games. Prospects for next year's outfit are good with six lettermen and two varsity reserves returning.

Varsity Basketball

Jayvee Basketball

The Jayvee basketball team played fourteen games this season with a record of ten losses and four wins. They won games from Jefferson, Independence, Springfield, and the General Finance in the Salem city league. Members of the maple board squad during the year were Alton Chamberlain, Laverne Heibert, Jerry Clay, Bob Charlton, Jim Barlow, Don Pickett, Jack Slater, Pete Hoar, and Bruce Wrisley, as well as Bob Deacon, Jack Fitzmaurice, Gene Mason, and Tom Boardman who played with the varsity squad late in the season.

Although the war has caused the track team to take fewer trips to other towns, the team this year compared favorably with those of other years. Under the guidance of Tom Drynan, the trackmen have participated in both district, and local meets. Returning track lettermen included Richard Taw, sprint; Jack Larsen and Duane Isaacson, hurdle; Bennie Lambert, Jim Shawver, and Bob Macy, half mile; Richard Gatke, high jump; Art Gottfried and Tom Boardman, discus; and Norman Dalke, javelin.

Track

Golf

The only team representing Salem High School that must play at their own expense and during their own time is the golf team. This year play has been even more difficult than ever before because of the scarcity of equipment and gasoline. Those who made up this year's golf squad were Dan Fry, Evan Boise, Stuart Compton, Frank Southwick, Jim Barlow, and Bunny Mason.

Now completing her twenty-first year as head of the girls physical education department and adviser of the Girls' Letter club is Mrs. Grace Wolgamott. Miss Margaret Shipley, who is new to the department, is assisting her. Miss Shipley directed the extra-curricular program of sports for the girls. After a semester's leave-of-absence Mrs. Edith Serell rejoined the staff early in February. As a substitute for Mrs. Serell, Mrs. Marjorie Carson taught girls gym during the first semester.

Girls' Coaches

Heads of Sports

Seasonal sports held the most prominent place in the Girls' Letter club activities. The following girls were officers and heads of sports: Doris Dimbat, aerial darts; Jacqueline Torgerson, archery; Pat Viesko, badminton; Beverly Wadsworth, basketball; Helen Jean Gilbert, bicycling; Dorothy Richardson, baseball; Donna Henderson, bowling; Mary Bollinger, golf; Betty Willard, hiking; Margaret Smith, horseback riding; Delores Dougherty, pingpong; Delores Deweese, play days; Betty Staab, assistant head of play days; Thelma Gamble, ring hockey; Betty Jean Korb, roller-skating; Calline Hillman, ice-skating; Betty Jean Johns, soccer; Wilma Earnest, speedball; Betty Kayser, swimming; Shirley Kenagy, tennis; Ruby Burnham, tumbling; Connie Cocking, volleyball; Barbara Weddle, chairman of the Jym Jamboree; Kathleen Hug, assistant chairman; Faye Plenge, wardrobe mistress; Maxine Smalley, assistant wardrobe mistress; DeLoris Lawrence, reporter; and Joanne Twedt, musician.

OH! WHAT A BEAUTIFUL DAY

... when the war is won . . . and battle-born wonders transform our peace-time living. When you'll see as well as hear radio shows right in your own living room . . . when the school bus will drop out of the sky to pick up the children and bring them home at night. When mirrors won't break, and the sheerest fabrics won't stain or burn or fade! And that day, as always, we'll be bringing you these new things . . . when they are still new!

Dear Rod!

I just want to tell you that I've enjoyed every minute that I've been with you. I guess us three just seemed to hit it off good.
When we get in the navy well even stick closer together than we are now, much closer.

Let's always remember the times that we went out to dances. Dear Rod: We've had more fun. Here's hoping that our friendship will grow into something much greater and larger than both of us.
